CARESPACE Health+Wellness ranks No. 45 on The Globe and Mail's first ranking of Ontario's Top Growing Companies

Ranked No. 7 in Health care & Wellness in Ontario, with 342% three-year revenue growth

WATERLOO, ONTARIO, November 18, 2026 — CARESPACE Health+Wellness has ranked No. 45 on the 2026 Report on Business magazine ranking of Ontario's Top Growing Companies, the first year The Globe and Mail has published a ranking for the province.

Ontario's Top Growing Companies is an editorial ranking launched in 2026 as part of Report on Business magazine's Canada's Top Growing Companies program. Companies apply voluntarily, complete an in-depth application, meet revenue requirements and are ranked on three-year revenue growth. CARESPACE earned its place with three-year growth of 342% and ranked No. 7 among Ontario companies in the Health care & Wellness category. In total, 173 companies earned a spot on this year's ranking, which is published online by Report on Business magazine at The Globe and Mail.

The provincial recognition follows CARESPACE's national result earlier this fall, when it ranked No. 83 on Canada's Top Growing Companies and No. 10 nationally in Health care & Wellness.

"Being recognized at home means a lot to us," said Gerry Barg, Founder and President of CARESPACE Health+Wellness. "Our growth comes from people in Kitchener, Waterloo and Cambridge choosing to trust our team with their health, and from practitioners who work together around each client's goals. This ranking belongs to them."

"While our annual ranking of Canada's Top Growing Companies celebrates the innovation and resilience of businesses nationwide, this ranking takes a specifically regional lens – bringing new energy, focus, and perspective to the diverse range of businesses and success stories across the country. We're excited to showcase what success looks like from coast to coast," says Garth Thomas, Managing Director of The Globe and Mail, Business and Financial Products.
